

FAITH AND CONFIDENCE—This photo of a friendly policeman and a small and trusting boy has become a minor sensation. Everyone who has seen it has been moved by it. FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover declared it "worthy of a prize." Bill Beall, veteran Washington (D.C.) Daily News photographer, made this remarkable study in human relations while covering a recent celebration in Chinatown. The policeman, Pvt. M. J. Cullinane, was warning two-year-old Allen Weaver, of Arlington, Va., to keep clear of the fireworks.

U. S. Warns Russia

Syria Accuses Turkey of New Border Incidents, Interference

By United Press
Syria disclosed today it had formally accused Turkey of new provocations along the border and of interfering in the internal affairs of Syria.

The danger of a flareup in the Middle East led the U. S. State Department Thursday to warn Russia that the United States will honor its defense commitments to Turkey.

Communist diplomatic sources in London made it clear the Kremlin expects the Middle East to blow up somewhere near the Turkish border, and the source repeated Moscow's warning that Russia would assist Syria.

Both Syria and Soviet Russia have accused Turkey in recent weeks of massing troops near the border, and Monday there was a 45-minute and potentially dangerous border skirmish between Syrian and Turkish troops.

Official sources in Damascus disclosed today Syria has sent a stern note to Ankara Wednesday accusing Turkey of "unjustified provocative actions" along the border.

These included the old charges of massing of troops and added allegations that Turkey had flown planes over Syrian territory and that Turkish soldiers fired at Syrian border residents.

Syrian security forces also reported the discovery of "several hundreds of modern individual weapons" in a crackdown on the banned Socialist Nationalist Party. A military spokesman said they were hidden to "kindle a civil war designed to topple the current Syrian regime."

Syria had outlawed the party before it accused the United States recently of plotting to overthrow its pro-Communist government.

Warning to Russia

The State Department warning to Russia followed a statement in Moscow earlier this week by Soviet Communist Party leader Nikita Khrushchev that the United States is trying to incite Turkey into war with Russian-backed Syria.

Turkey is a member of the Baghdad Pact and one of the American allies in NATO. Washington officials said the United States "couldn't let Russia get away with Khrushchev's implied threat that 'if war breaks out we are near Turkey and you are not.'"

Communist diplomatic sources in London issued warnings of their own to the United States. They said Russia "inevitably" would intervene if Turkey should become involved in hostilities.

Woman Dies in Electric Chair

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (UP)—Mrs. Rhonda Bell Martin, 51, who confessed feeding lethal doses of arsenic to six members of her family, died in the electric chair at Alabama's Kilby Prison today.

She was the second white woman to be put to death in the state. The husky former waitress was executed for the poisoning of her fourth husband, Claude Martin, who died in April of 1951. But she also admitted taking the lives of her second husband, her mother and her three daughters.

Eight months after Martin's death she married his son, Ronald Martin, 28—who now is a hopeless cripple from arsenic she administered in an effort to kill him also.

The red-haired Mrs. Martin died clutching a Bible in her left hand.

Death Takes Mrs. Harriett Bradshaw

Mrs. Harriett A. Bradshaw, 84, died in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Hillis (Pearl) Joiner, RFD 3, Harrisburg at 2 p. m. Thursday. She is survived in addition to Mrs. Joiner, by two daughters, Mrs. B. Gribble, RFD 3, Harrisburg, and Mrs. Flo Brown, Harrisburg, and her son, Webb Williams, RFD 3, Harrisburg.

The body will lie in state at the Gibbons funeral home in Harrisburg until the funeral at 2 p. m. Sunday in the Spring Valley church. Rev. Roy Reynolds will officiate and burial will be in the church cemetery.

Kimmel Estimates 95 Per Cent Corn, Soybean Crops Out of Danger

Saline County Farm Adviser L. B. Kimmel Thursday estimated 95 per cent of the corn and soybean crop is out of danger from bad weather.

"Farmers have been pretty fortunate," stated Mr. Kimmel in reference to the late planting season and the warm, dry weather that the area has experienced in September and October.

Mr. Kimmel said he had received reports of touches of frost but they had not been heavy enough to kill even the most sensitive plants.

"Dry weather has matured the corn and soybeans," he stated. "Corn put in during June and some of it planted in July is out of danger from anything but a severe freeze," he stated. "Frost wouldn't hurt it."

The farm adviser, however, did state that there is a lot of Stewart's disease in corn, the disease causing the corn to dry up like

Chrysler to Build $50 Million Plant at St. Louis

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Chrysler Corp., which will build a 50-million-dollar auto plant in St. Louis County, was expected to file a petition today or early next week for rezoning of the 275-acre site.

The announcement of the new industry Thursday set off action that was expected to create 3,500 additional jobs and place Missouri second to Michigan in the production of new cars.

St. Louis County officials said rezoning of the site on U. S. 66 about 20 miles southwest of downtown St. Louis will be made quickly and a start on land clearance may begin in December.

First shipment of cars from the new plant is expected in two years, according to W. C. Newberg, automotive group vice president of the Chrysler Corp. Pilot operations may start in the spring of 1959.

Select Name for Little Grassy Boy Scout Camp

Sea Explorer Buddy Barnes, member of Sea Explorer Ship 5, sponsored by the First Presbyterian church of Cairo, has won the honor of naming the Egyptian Council Boy Scout Camp on Little Grassy Lake. The name selected by the committee of judges from all of the entries is "Pine Ridge Scout Reservoir." In the opinion of the judges this depicted best the character and the "backwoods" atmosphere of the camp.

The honor came as a surprise to Explorer Barnes who is an Eagle Scout, earning Scouting's highest award on April 12, 1957. Barnes said that a friend had submitted the name in his behalf. Some of the adult Scouters who had names to suggest assigned them to Eagle Scouts.

Barnes, in addition to having the honor of naming the camp at special ceremonies to be held early next summer, received a certificate entitling him to $50 in Scout equipment. His Sea Explorer unit, of which Frank Karher is leader, also received a $50 certificate. The camp, which was built in 1953, has received national recognition. Prior to that date the Egyptian Council was the only Council in the four states of the region with no camping facilities.

"Operation Boy Scout Camp," a gigantic work project which involved over 700 people was written up in several publications and earned the George Washington award for community program. The award, the first ever received by a Southern Illinois organization was presented by the Free-dom Foundation at Valley Forge for "Outstanding achievement in bringing about a better understanding of the American Way of Life."

Judges for the competition were, Eugene Ramsey, Marion, chairman; Dr. Willis Swartz, Carbon-dale; Paul Halbersleben, Harrisburg; Don Hayes, Du Quoin; J. V. Walker and John Gualdoni, Herrin; John H. Stelle, McLeans-boro; Wade B. East, Carmi; General Harry Bolen, Cairo; Alfred Bonfield, Metropolis; and Dr. William Lyle, Carbondale.

24 Ministers to Pray for Little Rock Segregation

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Twenty-four Baptist ministers held a prayer meeting tonight dedicated to the return of strict racial segregation.

The ministers are calling for transfer of the nine Negro children recently integrated into the student body of Central High School back to Horace Mann (Negro) School. They maintain it is the only way peace will return to Little Rock.

But eader of 85 other churches of all denominations will hold services in their churches at 11 a. m. c. s. t. Saturday for "observance of law and order and good will among men." The ministers did not plan to "take sides" for or against integration, spokesmen said.

Gov. Orval E. Faubus, who has said that prayers alone could not resolve the issues, was recovering from a light attack of influenza.

Robot Moon-Watcher Fixes Orbit of Rocket

Scientists Now Able to Predict Location Accurately

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP)—A robot moonwatcher today fixed precisely for the first time the orbit of the Russian satellite's rocket.

An IBM mechanical brain, working nightlong, determined the orbit on the basis of photographs and visual observations of the rocket which trails the world-girdling satellite.

Dr. J. Allen Hynek of the Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory said the orbit previously had been estimated by radio signals.

"But this," he said, "is the first orbit derived from actual photo and visual observation. It is subject to change, however, as we do further checking on the data."

"This means that we're really getting places in our studies of the satellite."

The mechanical brain is set up at a nearby Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

On the basis of the computations, Hynek said, the "period of the third stage rocket (the time it takes for the missile to circle the globe) is 96.03 minutes. The third stage rocket traverses the globe almost exactly 15 times a day."

He said the minimum altitude was figured at 147 miles and the top altitude at 582 miles.

Scientists now will be able to predict accurately when the rocket will zoom over a given point on the globe, Hynek said. Previously, the observations were limited to estimates which had proven relatively accurate.

Earlier today, four scientists on a rooftop here spotted what they believed was the rocket.

Annette Dionne, One of Four Surviving Quints, Weds in Private Ceremony

MONTREAL (AP)—Annette Dionne, 24, left the fame of her girlhood behind today and married a 24-year-old finance company executive in a simple and private Roman Catholic ceremony.

Annette, one of the four surviving 23-year-old quintuplets, and Germain Allard knelt at a church altar and exchanged wedding bands in the presence of a small group of relatives and friends. Only two of the other quintuplets, Marie and Cecile, were there. Yvonne was in a hospital with Asian flu. Emilie died during an epileptic seizure on Aug. 6, 1954.

Mr. and Mrs. Oliva Dionne, parents of the quints, drove to Montreal from Callander, Ont. Thursday and Annette walked to the altar in the arm of her father.

Gov. Foss Also Splattered

SIoux FALLS, S. D. (UP)—Gov. Joe Foss has demanded full prosecution of a band of embittered farmers who pelted Agriculture Secretary Ezra T. Benson with eggs.

Benson barely escaped being hit by a half-dozen eggs which showered on the platform Thursday as he made a speech demanding repeal of federal price support floors on corn and other major crops.

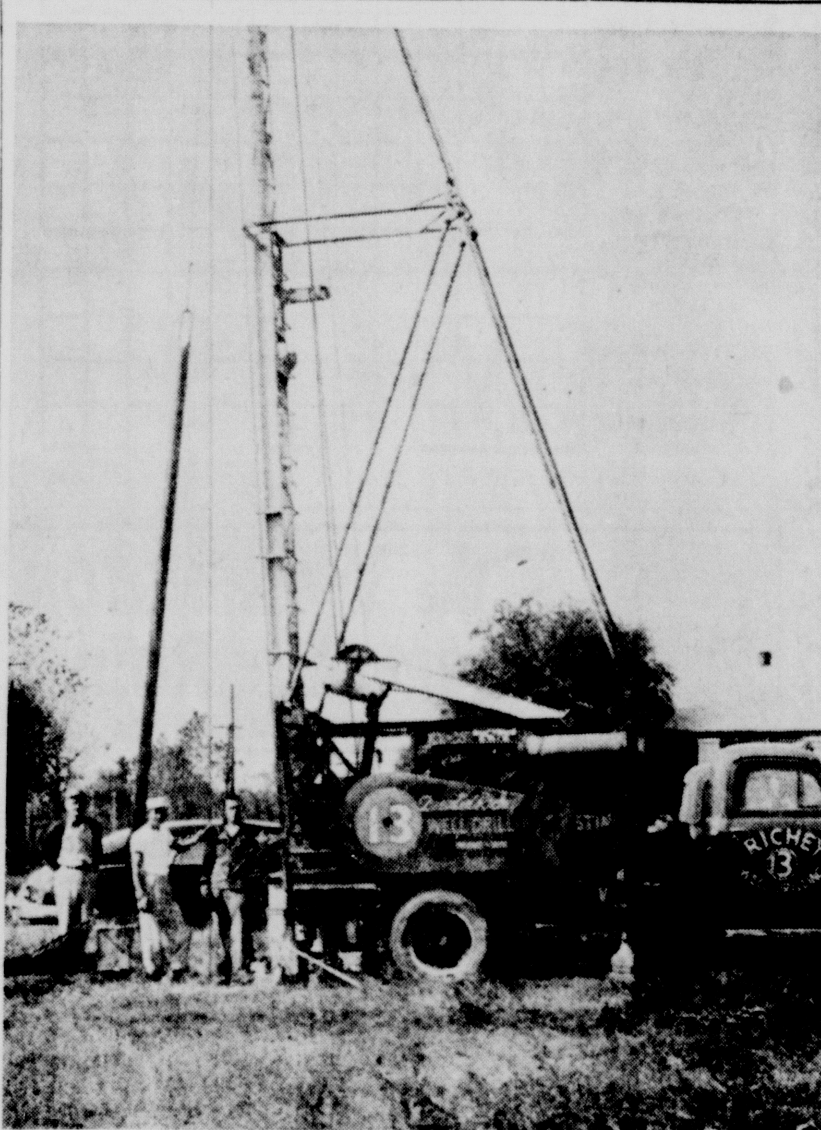

One splattered over his hat and another smeared Foss' suit. Benson was addressing about 7,500 farmers who had gathered for the National Mechanical Corn Picking Contest which begins today. Ten cornbelt states are entered in the "World's Fair of Agriculture."

Despite the shelling from the group, Benson went on to finish his speech while state troopers picked their way through the crowd and nabbed five men who admitted throwing the eggs.

Later, he said "It's nothing—let's forget about it."

Foss apparently didn't intend to forget about it and made it known he intended to have the men prosecuted. "The next time they might throw bricks," he said.

There was little response from the group as Benson argued that artificially high supports drive customers away and bring "lower farm income." Nor was there much enthusiasm when Ray Loftness, Sioux Falls, vice-president of the corn-picking contest and master of ceremonies, offered a MUDDY'S EFFORTS to obtain a water supply from deep wells apparently has met with success. Thursday at noon at a depth of 100 feet, a good stream of water was found and after an 11-night test it is estimated the stream will produce 48 gallons of water per minute, far over the estimated need for the village of 10,000 gallons per day. Earlier in the day, at 65 feet down, a stream with an estimated flow of 20 gallons per minute was found. John Molinaro, Jr. pointed out that all figures were strictly estimates, but village officials are optimistic that a sufficient amount of water has been tapped. Quentin Richey veteran water well driller from Carrier Mills, drilled the test well, located at the southeast edge of the limits of Muddy, near Route 45. Representatives of the Red Jacket Pump Co., Davenport, Iowa, are working with Muddy officials and after it is determined there is sufficient water, plans for a water system will be completed. The water has been tested for everything, except purity, and is acceptable for use. Of particular interest was the lack of acid content. Molinaro stated. (Daily Register Staff Photo).

Confers with Cabinet, Officials At White House

Follows Russian Promise to Send Second Satellite

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON (AP)—The State Department said today it would not be surprised if Russia launched a second space satellite "at any time."

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower met with his Cabinet and top defense officials today in a continuing reappraisal of the U. S. missile and satellite programs.

Defense Secretary Neil H. McElroy and Assistant Defense Secretary William M. Holdaway, the Pentagon's chief of missile research and development, met privately with the President before the Cabinet session.

The twin White House meetings came on the heels of a Russian promise to send a second and more advanced satellite spinning around the globe next month—before the United States gets its first one into "pace."

The Cabinet meeting lasted about two hours. As is customary, the White House declined to disclose what was discussed.

It was the second day of high level administration talks behind closed doors, continuing a reappraisal of the nation's missile and satellite programs which was touched off by the launching of the first Sputnik a week ago today possibly with an intercontinental ballistic missile.

All-Out Effort

After a meeting of Eisenhower and the National Security Council Thursday, defense officials indicated there would be an all-out effort to perfect an intermediate range ballistic missile.

At the same time Eisenhower and McElroy are under a steady drumfire of congressional criticism to speed up America's missile effort.

However, the big question remained: When will the United States seize back the initiative in

Man Beaten in Pulaski County; Find Car at Marion

MARION, Ill. (AP)—The blood-spattered car of the victim of a savage beating has been found in Marion, more than 40 miles from where the man was found.

The victim, Carl Risner, 42, Toledo, Ohio, was listed in fair condition at a Cairo hospital today.

Risner was found beaten near Olmsted in Pulaski County early Thursday. He had a fractured skull, a broken jaw and cuts requiring more than 200 stitches.

Pulaski County Sheriff Robert Aldrich described Risner as "the worst beaten man I have ever seen."

Marion police found Risner's car behind an apartment house Thursday night and have obtained some fingerprints.

Marion police said they have no suspects but plan to question several persons.

The Pulaski County sheriff's office quoted Risner as saying he had left a Marion tavern Wednesday night with a man he did not know, and added that he did not know who had beaten him.

Marion police said Risner was staying at a Marion hotel while supervising a construction project at a coal mine near Marion.

Soil Bank Wheat Acreage Declines Almost Two Thirds

WASHINGTON (AP)—The nation's wheat farmers set aside 3,806,000 acres of land under the 1958 soil bank's winter wheat acreage reserve program, the Agriculture Department reported today. This was down almost two-thirds from last year.

The department said 140,662 acreage reserve contracts were signed for the 1958 program. Deadline for registration was Oct. 4.

Participating farmers would be eligible for $76,808,773 in acreage payments in 1958, the department said.

A total of 10,692,000 acres were placed in the program last year. The department blamed better crop prospects and lower maximum payments allowed for this year's decline.

tion, however, made sure that the work was continued, and the new secretary of HEW, Marion Folsom, has now reinstated Dr. Pauling's research.

Some of these scientists were indiscreet. Some "wise. Some were naturalized citizens. Some were possible security risks. But whether they were right or wrong, the government policy of witch-hunting has discouraged innumerable other scientists from working for the government.

"It isn't necessarily the world-famous scientists who count," Dr. Urey told me, "it's the little scientists. You never can tell when some young, struggling scientist the world has never heard of will come up with a substantial contribution. These are the men who are being scared out of working for the government."

Note—Most people have forgotten it, but the atomic bomb was not strictly an American invention. It was produced in the U. S. A. because Roosevelt was wise enough to make this country the haven of refugees from Hitler. Many of them Jewish. The men who produced the A-bomb were Einstein, a German; Szilard, a Hungarian; Fermi, an Italian; Bohr, a Dane; together with Urey and Oppenheimer, Americans.

The WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND by DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says: Witch-Hunting Tactics Of U. S. Government Have Driven Scientists Out Of Government; Loss Of Scientists Has Lost Us Scientific Race With Russia; Dr. Harold Urey Was Shadowed By State Department.

WASHINGTON. — One of the least talked about but very real reasons why the United States is lagging behind Russia in scientific development, according to top scientists, is the witch-hunting tactics of U. S. government agencies. Scientists have been investigated, hounded, and discouraged from working for the government.

Most notable case was that of Dr. Robert Oppenheimer, in charge of the government's atomic project at Los Alamos, N. M., who did such a notable job of speeding production of the atomic bomb. He was publicly investigated on the order of Chairman Lewis Strauss of the AEC and his government security clearance removed. Oppenheimer had been entrusted with the most vital secrets of the war, yet after the war he was considered a security risk.

His inventive brain is now lost to the government. While this is a loss, a much greater loss was the effect on other less-known scientists. An untold number have either got out of government projects or shied away from working for the government.

It happens that scientists tend to be inquisitive free thinkers. They have challenging minds. If they hadn't they probably wouldn't be able to develop such revolutionary projects as the A-bomb, H-bomb, and earth satellites. And they don't relish the prospect of having their ideas scrutinized by Admiral Strauss, Senator McCarthy, or Vice President Nixon when the latter was Mr. Minister of the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

DR. UREY HOUNDED The public has little conception of the lengths to which witch-hunting has been carried.

When Dr. Harold Urey of the University of Chicago, one of the original builders of the A-bomb, was traveling through Europe last year, he found himself trailed by State Department agents. Finally he demanded a showdown, called State Department officials into his office and wanted to know why they were hounding him. They apologized.

Dr. Urey did the research on heavy water, on Uranium 235, and discovered the hydrogen atom of atomic weight 2. He is one of the most eminent physicists in the world. He had contributed greatly to the defense of his country during the war. And if he was t-a-i-l-e-d by State Department agents you can get some idea of what may happen to younger, less-known scientists.

Here is the roll-call of younger scientists, some of whom made mistakes, but all of whom were hounded out of government with repercussions which discouraged other scientists:

Frank Oppenheimer, brother of Robert, who worked on the A-bomb project at the University of California, was investigated the House un-American Activities committee, and lost his government clearance. Oppenheimer admitted he made mistakes in his political associations. A brilliant scientist, he is now unable to get a scientific job and is working on a small cattle ranch in Colorado.

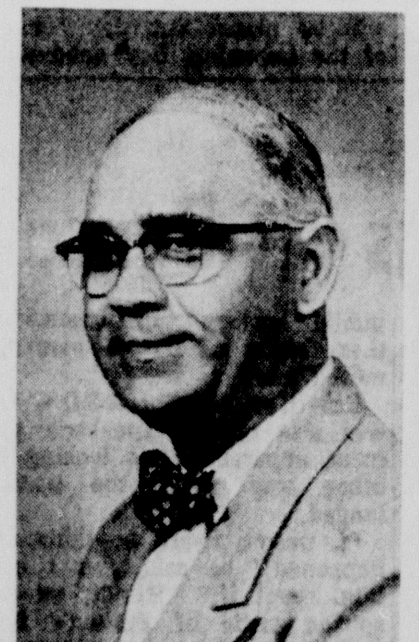

Bernard Peters, a refugee from Hitler and a naturalized citizen, worked on the atomic project during the war, was investigated for his political associations, lost his government clearance and is now teaching at the Tata Research Institute in Bombay, India.

David Bohm of the University of California is one of the leading authorities on the behavior of the mononuclear gases. This is of vital importance right now. After a congressional investigation he lost his security clearance, and is now teaching in Israel.

Joseph Weinberg, better known as Mr. X, a brilliant scientist who once was a member of the Communist party, worked on the A-bomb project at the University of California, lost his job, was prosecuted for perjury, but acquitted. Unable to get a scientific job, he is now working for an optical company.

REFUGEES BUILT A-BOMB Prof. Linus Pauling of California Tech is a Nobel prize winner and one of the most brilliant chemists in the world. But because he signed a petition to stop nuclear tests, Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare Oveta Hobby, for whom he was doing some research, abruptly stopped that research. She then tried to maneuver with Cal Tech to have the work continued without Dr. Pauling being connected with it — all because he exercised his freedom as a citizen in opposing A-bomb tests.

CELEBRITIES APPEAR ON WSIL-TV. One of the most charming young misses to be seen by local TV fans in a long time appeared Wednesday evening on WSIL-TV, when "Miss Sunbeam—1937" displayed her charm and talent to television viewers here. Accompanying the winsome miss were RCA Victor recording star "Shorty" Long, who was master of ceremonies for the show, and "Sir Clacky Wack," her own personal clown, who was formerly "Clarabell" the clown of the "Howdy Doody" show. "Miss Sunbeam," in real life Miss Donna Kay Erickson of Champaign, was also accompanied on the Sunbeam bread-sponsored tour by her mother. (WSIL-TV Photo)

Galatia Register

Guests in the home of Mrs. Mary Phelps last week were: Mr. and Mrs. Joe Caldwell, and Mrs. Shirley Dedert and children of Quincy.

Mrs. Wilma Phelps and children and Tullius Berrong were visitors in Peoria last week.

J. W. Pyle has purchased the Glen Bridwell property in northeast Galatia.

Bennett Webber of Raleigh was in Galatia on business Wednesday. Mrs. Elsie Hill was in Harrisburg, Tuesday, to see "The Ten Commandments."

The Friendship quilting club met Tuesday in the home of Mrs. Maggie Roberts. They completed a quilt and canned a bushel of apples. There was a meal served at the noon hour. Those attending were: Mrs. Nealie DeBose, Ethel Roberts, Pearl Williams, Ella Shelton, Katie Lee Whitlock, Edna Stevens, Hester Furlong, Mary Phelps and Myrtle Ryan. Visitors at the meeting were: Margaret Herzog Johnston City, Mrs. Griffin, Eldorado, and Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Grady, Eldorado. The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Myrtle Ryan.

The revival in Lebanon church is still in progress and much interest is reported.

Fined

Joe Arbie, arrested last night by City Policemen Link Rann and Lloyd Kimbro and charged with driving while intoxicated, pleaded guilty today when arraigned before Justice of the Peace O. L. Woods and was fined $150 plus $10 costs.

It's Getting That Time Again...

Ask Mom and Dad once more for a J. R. Metcalf Portrait together. You will always be glad you did. Residential Studio, 18 S. Mill.

Drama!

... is the word for this swagger clutch with the calculated fullness at the sides. Topped by a key-hole notched cape collar in polished Zibeline, and lined in striped satin, it comes in the season's choice hues of Roman Red, Yeoman Blue or Black.

Flu Riddles Grid Schedules

By United Press

Outbreaks of Asian flu riddle the Illinois high school football schedule, forcing cancellation of two games and postponement of three others slated tonight.

An influenza outbreak at Sterling hit all but 4 regulars and 14 reserves. The ailment resulted in Sterling cancelling its homecoming game with Kewanee.

Also cancelled because of the flu was the game between Pontiac and Normal Community.

Postponed until Oct. 21 after 17 members of the Peoria Limestone squad became ill was the Limestone East Peoria game.

Sheffield was forced to postpone its game with Ohio to Oct. 29 due to a flu outbreak.

A number of players at Roosevelt Military Academy of Alton were stricken with the malady and the Academy's meeting with Corpus Christi of Galesburg was postponed indefinitely.

The lenses of your eye are about the size of an aspirin tablet. They do what no glass lens can, changing curvature to focus on near objects as well as distant ones.

In Appreciation
We wish to take this method of thanking our friends and neighbors for their thoughtfulness to us during the illness and following the death of our loved one, Miss Blanche Mings. We especially wish to thank the doctors and nurses at the Lightner hospital, Rev. W. A. Ward, choir and members of Long Branch Baptist church, members of Little Chapel church, those who sent food and the beautiful flowers, the Courtney funeral home and all who helped in any way. Your kind acts of sympathy will always be remembered.
The Mings Family. *89-1

Card of Thanks

COLSON—We wish to thank our many friends and neighbors and relatives who showed us so much kindness and sympathy during the illness and passing of our grand son, Wilbert Colson. Also for the beautiful flowers, the consoling words of Rev. Delmar Teazel, pastor of Raleigh church, and the services of the Gibbons funeral home. May the Lord bless each and every one.
Sadly missed by the Colson family. *89-1

"TO KNOW HOW TO GROW OLD IS THE MASTERWORK OF WISDOM"
—Henri Amiel

Not so long ago there were fewer old folks because the average person who reached fifty was considered lucky. Now with an average life expectancy of about 70 years, there are many more people who are old in years but young in health.

There are two wise rules that will make your added years healthier. Always visit your physician at the first sign of any illness, and regularly take one of the geriatric vitamins that will supply the extra energy needed. For just a few cents per day you can get from us vitamins made by the dependable pharmaceutical firms who discovered and perfected them.

AFTERNOON TEA TABLE EXHIBITS of Mrs. B. E. Hart, left, and Mrs. J. W. Towle, which were awarded first place at the flower show, a rare circumstance. The "Town and Country" flower show, sponsored by the Saline County Garden club and the Evergreen Garden club, was held Thursday at Wesley Center.

JUNIOR EXHIBITS, which were complimented by the judges as being superior throughout in quality and quantity of entries. The "For the House Beautiful" class, arranged and entered by Suzanne Wells. The madonna shared a polished wooden base with a banana leaf "bowl" on which was arranged magnolia leaves and seed pods, exciting interest as well as admiration for its beauty. ### Harrisburg Flower Show Has Outstanding Junior Exhibits

The Harrisburg flower show presented in the Wesley center from 1 p. m. to 8:30 p. m. Thursday by the Evergreen Garden club and the Saline County Garden club was marked by the unusual quality and quantity of the exhibits. The junior exhibits came near to "stealing the show," largely due to the efforts of Mrs. H. B. Bauman who encouraged her pupils to exhibit many unusual and individual arrangements. Mrs. Robert J. Capel of the Evergreen Garden club was in charge of the junior exhibits.

The Sweepstakes winner, Mrs. Elmer McCormack, 691 Robinson street, Harrisburg, won with 69 points. Mrs. J. W. Towle was second with 36 points. Mrs. Simon Sutton was third with 35 points and Mrs. Carl Kude was fourth place winner with 32 points. The sweepstakes silver trophy will stay with Mrs. McCormack until it is challenged at the show next year. Judges were Mrs. Rolla Jordan of Norris City and Mrs. May McCarty and Mrs. Le's Mylins of Mt Vernon.

Winners in the junior classes were as follows: class 1, Wills Vaughn, 1st and 3rd; Darrell Cavender, 2nd, and George Kennedy, Sandra Rice and Gregg James, honorable mention; class 2, Suzanne Wells, 1st; Sara Sullivan, 2nd; Carol Morris, 3rd, and Janie Lavender, honorable mention; class 3, Rowena Pennis, 1st; Charles Businaro, 2nd; Linda Nolen, 3rd and Judy Potts, honorable mention.

The afternoon tea table class had two exhibits so outstanding that they were both declared first place winners. They were Mrs. J. W. Towle and Mrs. B. E. Hart. Country breakfast was won by Mrs. E. M. Travelstead, Mrs. Ralph Brown, 2nd, and Mrs. Dean Hill, 3rd. Thanksgiving dinner table settings were won by Mrs. K. C. Capel, Mrs. Harry Barter, 2nd, and Mrs. Bruce Polk, 3rd.

There were 62 other awards in 24 additional classes. Each was outstanding in its class. There were many out of town guests showing a real interest in the show and extending an invitation to the Harrisburg garden club members to attend their shows.

There was a table with plants and containers which sold articles for gardening and home use to defray the expenses of the show. There was no admission charge.

The Susannah Wesley Sunday school class of the First Methodist church served luncheon at the noon hour and made coffee, sandwiches and desserts available throughout the show hours.

St. Ann's Altar Society Completes Plans For Dinner Bazaar Oct. 23

Thirty seven members and two guests, Mrs. Louise Trotter and Mrs. Hannah Grelmer, were present at the October meeting of St. Ann's Altar Society Wednesday evening at St. Mary's church.

The meeting was opened with prayer by Mrs. Marie McCormick since October is the month dedicated to the Rosary. Mrs. Nelle Wheatley for the devotion led the assembly in the recitation of the rosary.

Mrs. Eileen Patrick, president, commended the Spiritual Development committee for the success of the communion breakfast and the large number of women receiving Holy Communion in a body on that Sunday.

Mrs. Patrick announced that the Spring meeting of the Eldorado Deacons of the National Council of Catholic Women, of which Mrs. J. J. Klein elected president at the Fall meeting in Lawrenceville, would be held in Harrisburg some time in April. Also, the diocesan meeting would be held Oct. 25 in East St. Louis, and the meeting of the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine will be the first week in November, the theme being "The Lively Front Line of the Church." Cardinal Samuel Stritch of Chicago will speak at this meeting on Sunday afternoon.

It was to donate $5 to the Girl Scout drive and a rummage sale is scheduled for Oct. 25 in the church basement. Articles for this should be brought Oct. 24.

Final plans for the annual fall dinner and bazaar, to be held Wednesday, Oct. 23, were made and the women are asked to bring homemade cookies and candy for sale on that date.

The meeting closed with prayer by Mrs. Marie McCormick.

A dainty luncheon with appointments in Halloween colors was served by the committee of the month: Mrs. Robt. Schneider, Mrs. Cecil Garavito, Mrs. John Lockwood, Mrs. Ramon Tonazzi, Mrs. Walter Sisky, Mrs. John Molina, Mrs. Mrs. John Molinarolo Jr. and Mrs. Mike Bolatto.

Gabriel Daniel Fahrenheit, after whom the thermometric scale is named, was a German physicist.

Sarah Wiedemann Circle Hostess at Guild Meeting

The Sarah Wiedemann circle was the hostess circle at the meeting of the Presbyterian Women's Guild, held at the church Wednesday. Mrs. Halbersleben presided and introduced Mrs. William Burroughs, program chairman. The program was in the form of three playlets on the theme of "It Happens Every Day," and depicted the plight of the juvenile delinquent, the plight of the working woman in Japan and the un-buried stranger in the community and how his problems could be solved.

The first, "The Newspaper," was presented by Mrs. Paul Shalter and Mrs. Willard Wiley; the second, "The Lunch Hour," by Mrs. Louise Gaskins and Mrs. Clarence Pickett and the third, "The Call," by Mrs. David Simmons. Mrs. Jesse Burley and Mrs. Clyde Benson.

The devotion, presented by Mrs. Walter Coulter, was followed by the Year Book of Prayer by Mrs. Gordon McGeehee. Mrs. Halbersleben made these announcements: A Fall training school will be held at the church at 9:30 a. m. Oct. 17 and the World Community day, Nov. 1, with Mrs. Glen Jones, speaker for the evening meeting. Mrs. Burley explained the new plan for Presbyterian women on a world wide basis called, "The Fellowship of the Least Coin." A social hour followed the meeting.

Amanda Reynolds Missionary Society Holds Meeting

The Amanda Reynolds Missionary society of the First General Baptist church met at 7 p. m. Wednesday in the home of Ola Maszaros. This was the annual memorial service and Cora Church called the meeting to order followed by the group singing of "Precious Memories," in honor of Mrs. Flora May, deceased member. Ollie Ferrell led the opening prayer. Geraldine Ewell, teacher, presented the lesson theme, "A Mother-in-Law's Story." The scripture was taken from the first chapter of Ruth.

During the business meeting, it was announced that the November meeting will be held in the church. Myrtle Parrish led the closing prayer. Attending were: Lillie Allen Disney, Ola Maszaros, Louise Brinkley, Wanda Parish, Myrtle Parrish, Ollie Ferrell, Ona Melton, Geraldine Ewell, Cora Church, Eunice Black, Ruby Wallace and Blanche Yuhas.

Week end guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Irvin, Dorris Heights, were Mrs. T. E. Murphy, Euclid, Ohio; Mrs. Bill McEwin, Stratford, Ont., Canada; and Mrs. Thomas G. (Betty) Donham, Euclid, Ohio, daughter of the Irvins. Mrs. Murphy and Mrs. McEwin left Harrisburg Monday, to go to Kansas City, Kas. Mrs. Donham will remain with her parents for an extended visit.

New Mexico, the nation's fourth largest state, has an area of 121,666 square miles. Of this, more than 13,000 square miles are forest lands and an reservations account for more than 8,000 square miles.

Calendar Of Meetings

A chicken dinner will be served Sunday, Oct. 13, at the O. O. F. hall in Galatia from 11:30 a. m. to 1 p. m. The dinner is being served by the Star of Egypt Rebekah Lodge No. 273, Galatia. Price is adults $1, children 50 cents.

A box supper will be held a week from tonight at Equality high school. Bob Whitney will be on hand to auction off the boxes.

SOCIAL EVENTS

BY PAT FLYNN

Birthday Supper Held For Herman Tanner

A birthday supper was given by the homeowners at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Tanner at Manteno Sunday, Sept. 29, in honor of Mr. Tanner's birthday.

Those present to help Mr. Tanner celebrate were: Mr. and Mrs. Clellan Milburn, Mrs. Noma Robinson, Mr. George Reed and Dan, and Alice Faye, and Mrs. Alice Goddard and the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Tanner. Mr. Cecil Goddard and Mrs. Irene Reed had to work and were unable to attend but sent their greetings.

A happy birthday song was sung and everyone wished Mr. Tanner many more birthdays. A good time was enjoyed by all.

G. A. Girls Meet at Baptist Church

The G. A. girls of the Baptist church held their regular meeting recently. Janice Milburn, president, called the meeting to order, and the Watchword, Star Ideals, Allegiance and song were given.

The election of officers was held and they are as follows: Peggy Hill, president; Penny Stokes, vice president; Candy Stokes, secretary; Warren Ingram, vice secretary; Janice Milburn, treasurer; Sherry Mayhew, vice treasurer; membership committee, Karen Davidson and Mary Scofield; serving committee, Janice Pankey, and Donna Lanham; lesson assigner, Janell Walker; mission committee, Mona Saddler and Janice Pankey.

After the lesson, entertainment consisted of Janice Milburn playing her clarinet.

ENGAGED—Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Brewer of Carrier Mills announce the engagement of their daughter, Judy, to Chester Dorris, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Dorris, also of Carrier Mills. Wedding plans are indefinite.

Marcy Clore Celebrates 6th Birthday with Party

Miss Marcy Jo Clore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Clore, celebrated her 6th birthday with a party in her honor.

Games were played and prizes were awarded to Kent Sweat, John Pankey, Susie McMillen, Larry Clore and Cathy Bynum.

Refreshments of ice cream and cup cakes decorated with faces and candy favors were served to: Kent Sweat, David W. Lota, Nanette Lane, Myra Jo Kidd, Vickie Hill, Jeff Whitling, Pam Nicholson, Larry Clore, Beth Ann and David Bramlett, Charlotte Lambert, Susie Hearn, Jeanne Enz, Mary K. Smith, Cathy Bynum and the honored guest, Marcy Jo Clore.

Marcy received many lovely gifts.

Mrs. Thelma Storms and Mrs. Velma Whiting shopped in Me Leansboro Tuesday.

Miss Alice Parks And Bob McKinney Wed

Miss Alice Parks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Barney Parks, RFD 1, Creal Springs, and Bob McKinney, son of Mr. and Mrs. James McKinney, RFD 4, Marion, were united in marriage Friday at 1 p.m. at the home of the bride's parents.

Rev. Vernell Clark, pastor of the McKinney chapel Baptist church, northeast of Goreville, performed the double ring ceremony in the presence of many close relatives and friends.

The bride wore a white ballerina-length gown of white lace. Her finger tip veil of illusion was fastened to a pearl and sequin covered crown. She carried a white Bible with a bouquet of white mums attached.

Mrs. Bob Hastings of Peoria, sister of the bride, served as the honor matron. She wore a white lace dress.

The bridegroom chose his brother, Egbert McKinney, of Marion, as his best man.

A reception was given immediately following the ceremony at the bride's home with a huge three-tiered wedding cake and punch served to the guests. Serving the cake and presiding at the punch bowl were Miss Mary Alice Cline of Creal Springs, and Mrs. James McKinney, the bride's mother.

The newlyweds departed after the reception for a honeymoon visit in Missouri and Kentucky.

The bride is a graduate of the Crab Orchard high school, class of 1956, and is employed in the office of E. Blankenship in Marion.

The bridegroom is a graduate of the Marion high school class of 1954. He is employed at the Norge Co. in Herrin.

The couple will reside at 807 Prairie Street in Marion.

Thelma Jenkins Hostess To W. S. C. S. Circle

The Ruth circle of the W. S. C. S. of the Methodist church met in the home of Thelma Jenkins at 9 a.m. Sept. 24. Mary Tanner gave the devotion and Essie Mottisner presented the lesson, "Women of Scripture". Refreshments were served and the following attended: Mary Tanner, Stella Vance, Ilda Hitchcock, Marge Davis, Wilsie Parter, Ada Holloway, and Essie Mottisner.

The next meeting will be in the home of Stella Vance, Oct. 22.

Study Class Meets With Ina Melven

The study class on "Christ, Church and Race", met in the home of Ina Melven at 1 p.m. Wednesday. Mrs. Melven presented the lesson assisted by those present, who gave scripture readings on the subject studied. The life of George Washington Carver was presented by Essie Mottisner.

Refreshments were served and the following attended: Alice Wallace, Wilsie Parter, Mary Barger, Olive Davis, Carrie Edmondson, Mable Milligan, Gertrude Russell, Maxine Davis, Blossom Allen, Mary Tanner, Ada Holloway and Essie Mottisner.

Woman's Society Meets At Methodist Church

The Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist church met in regular session Thursday, Oct. 3, at 1:30 p.m., with Mary Tanner opening the service with a song from the hymnal and Juanita Schwartz leading in prayer.

Ina Melven conducted the lesson entitled "Our Home Mission Centers and Race". Those assisting her were Wilsie Parter, Mary Barger, Essie Mottisner, Juanita Schwartz, and Mary V. Beggs. Della Ryan read the scripture and used as her meditation "All in a Social Workers Day". Those assisting her were Carrye Edmondson, Mabel Milligan, Grace Martin, Mary Tanner and Alice Wallace.

"Steal away to Jesus" was the spiritual number used. Other Negro spiritual numbers were sung in connection with the lesson. Representatives from five Methodist institutions were present.

The study book began Oct. 9 at

Revival Begins Oct. 14 at Baptist Church

Rev. Lyman Smith Allen, pastor of the Immanuel Baptist church, Henderson, Ky., will be the evangelist for the revival services at the Carrier Mills Baptist church Oct. 14-Oct. 23 inclusive.

The Carrier Mills church is co-operating with 22 Southern Baptist churches in the Saline Association in simultaneous evangelistic services.

Rev. Allen, son of Rev. C. C. Allen, former pastor of the Third Baptist church at Marion, is well known in this area, having pastored the Big Ridge Baptist church and others in this locality as a young man.

In 1945, while pastoring the Cobden church, Rev. Allen was called to the Immanuel Baptist Temple of Henderson, where he has been pastor for the past 12 years.

During that time the Henderson church has more than doubled its membership and now has approximately 2,000 members. It has been active in the mission program and sponsored several missions in the city and in August of this year the Immanuel Temple became the Earle Street Baptist church.

Rev. Allen has traveled extensively, making a trip abroad to Europe in 1949 and in 1953 traveled through Europe and the Middle East.

Services will be held each night at 7 and the Sunday school will meet by departments from juniors through adults each night preceding services from 6:30 to 6:55 for prayer meetings.

Three special nights are being planned during the revival:

1. Wednesday, Oct. 16, will be Sunday School Night when members of the departments will sit in designated places in the church auditorium;

2. Friday, Oct. 18, is Family

Rev. Lyman Smith Allen

Night. Each family will be recognized and special recognition will be given the largest family and the couple married the longest;

3. Tuesday, Oct. 22, is Prospect Night and a supper will be held in the church basement with all prospects as guests.

Sunday, Oct. 20, is High Goal Day in the Sunday School. The goal is 509 and every member and friend of the church will be working to reach the goal and even pass it if possible.

Rev. Bertie Smith, church pastor, in inviting everyone to attend the services, said "there will be good, strong gospel preaching, good gospel singing and special music each night. Brother Raymond Allen will be the song leader."

Dedication Services At Creal Springs Church of God Sunday

Dedication services will be held Sunday, Oct. 13, at the Church of God in Creal Springs. A new annex has just been completed to the church, including a basement.

The annex is 40 feet by 21 feet, which now makes the church 57 feet in length. The interior has been nicely arranged, redecorated and pews installed.

The Rev. A. E. Austin pastor, invites the public to attend the dedication services which will be held throughout the day. A basket dinner will be held at noon.

S. S. CONVENTION
AT CREAL SPRINGS CHURCH

A Sunday school convention for Section 10 of the Assemblies of God church was held Friday, Oct. 4, at the Assembly of God church in Creal Springs. Seventeen ministers were present, and about half of the 23 Assembly churches were represented.

The Rev. Henning of Barry, Ill., near Quincy, presided, while the Rev. D. B. Hurt of the office headquarters in Springfield, Mo., spoke at 3 p.m. and 8 p.m. on the subjects, "A Better Sunday School," and "A Bigger Sunday School."

Rev. Henning showed pictures of Sunday school and missionary activities in foreign fields at 7 p.m. The ladies of the local church prepared a delicious supper at 5 p.m. in the church basement for the visiting guests.

Benton won the Sunday school plaque for the highest points (137) and Olive Branch was second with 130 points.

Rev. D. C. Morningstar was the host pastor.

Funeral services were held Tuesday at 2 p.m. at the Webb church in Johnson county for Gardner Moore, 81, who died Sunday, Oct. 6, in the Creal Springs nursing home after a lingering illness. Rev. Clyde Simmons of Elkville officiated and interment was in the Webb (Latter Day Saints) cemetery. Mr. Moore was a member of the Webb church.

Mr. Moore was born near Tunnel Hill April 25, 1876. He spent 42 years of his life in Johnson county and was a farmer until a few years ago.

He leaves three daughters, Mrs. Carrie Wall, Mrs. Paul Lowery and Miss Mable Moore, Creal Springs RFD. Three sons, Ernest and Leslie Don Moore, Creal Springs, at home, and another son, Pleasant Moore, Champaign, also survive.

FORMER CARRIER MILLS youth member of Tennessee State Championship baseball team, Zack Street, extreme left standing, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Street, formerly of Carrier Mills, was shortstop on the Tennessee Pee Wee baseball championship club. The team, the Prescott Baptists of Memphis, Tenn., won the church league city championship, the all-city championship, the West Tennessee championship, then climaxed the outstanding season by beating Nashville two straight for the state title. The Streets left Carrier Mills early in June, following the close of the school term.

The key to the most famous prison in the world, the French Bastille—a prison which no longer exists—is kept in George Washington's home at Mount Vernon, Virginia. The great iron key was presented to Washington in 1790 by the French minister as a gift from the French people, to show they too had cast off the rule of their king. The fall of the Bastille, on July 14, 1790, marked the beginning of the French Revolution.

Stomach Trouble?

Ulcer pain, gas, bloating

TAKE

HARVEY TABLETS

The Harvey Stomach treatment has given relief to thousands.

Our medicine is designed to form a coating on your stomach, thus to allow healing and protection against excess stomach acid.

Ulcer pain, gas, bloating, and stomach distress are mostly the result of too much acid secretion.

You will be so pleasantly surprised when in just a few days you will find yourself sleeping much better, having more pep and energy, and won't have that feeling of exhaustion due to stomach distress.

Brucker Discloses Order Would Have Created South Task Forces

WASHINGTON (UP)—Army Secretary Wilber M. Brucker disclosed today that a now-revoked Army order would have created federal task forces for possible use in Little Rock-type integration crises.

In response to a demand from Chairman Richard B. Russell (D-Ga.) of the Senate Armed Services Committee, Brucker revealed the controversial Army directive which was dispatched Sept. 25 and rescinded the following day.

The order, sent by Army Chief of Staff Maxwell D. Taylor to the commanding general of the Continental Army Command at Ft. Monroe, Va., called for the organization of task forces of 1,000 to 1,200 men in the 82nd Airborne, 3rd Infantry, 1st Infantry and 1st Armored divisions.

The order said the task forces should be set up "as a precautionary measure in event troops are required in situations similar to that now current in Little Rock, Ark."

A Precautionary Reminder

In addition, the order directed that the Continental Army Command determine "availability of military police units for this type duty."

It also directed the task forces to initiate training programs promptly, under a 5-year-old field manual on "civil disturbances," and to "prepare plans for both air and motor movement."

Brucker said in a four-page letter to Russell that this type of training is included in training schedules "as a routine matter" but "occurs at varying times in the annual training cycle."

Consequently, he said, "it appeared prudent in the military judgment of the chief of staff to send a precautionary reminder to the commanding general, Continental Army Command, to assure the status of readiness and training of elements of certain units under his command for possible duty."

No Alert Directive

Shortly after the directive was issued, Brucker said, "an inaccurate press report was called to my attention in which it was alleged that Army units had been alerted to enforce anti-segregation measures throughout the South."

"Although the training directive was not such a document as press speculation suggested, I recognized that it might be subject to misinterpretation and, therefore, I directed its cancellation," Brucker said.

The Army secretary said that "no alert directive, as that term is understood in military terminology, has ever been issued" in connection with school integration.

Strattons Plan River Cruise

SPRINGFIELD (UP)—Gov. and Mrs. Stratton plan an expedition down the Illinois River to the Mississippi next week.

The governor, who moors a small houseboat adjacent to his Sangamon River farm here, confirmed reports here Thursday that he was planning a cruise.

He said he and Mrs. Stratton and Atty. Gen. Latham Castle and Mrs. Castle will live aboard the boat, the "Sandiana," for three or four days during the downriver tour and return. The boat has sleeping accommodations for four.

The houseboat will be taken from the Sangamon and hauled overland to Havana, where it will be refloated in the Illinois. The water is too low in the Sangamon for an easy trip downstream now, the governor explained.

The cruise will begin Tuesday, and Stratton said the party will stop each evening at the various river towns to visit friends.

The "Sandiana," named after the governor's daughters, Sandra and Diana, is powered by an outboard motor and cruises downstream at between 10 and 15 miles per hour.

Stratojet Crashes On Runway; 4 Dead

MIAMI, Fla. (UP)—A B47 Stratojet crashed and burned on a Homestead Air Force Base runway early today, killing its four occupants.

Homestead AFB said the plane was taking off on a routine training mission around 12:17 a. m. and a few minutes later crashed on the northeast end of the runway.

Cause of the crash was not immediately known and names of the crash victims were withheld pending notification of next of kin.

Firemen fought the blaze for nearly two hours and a base spokesman said the plane was a "total loss."

Mining Students Visit Area

Six mining students from the University of Illinois were in southern Illinois today visiting fluorspar mines in the Cave-in-Rock area on a field trip with the St. Louis Section of the American Institute of Mining, Metallurgical and Petroleum Engineers.

They visited the Alcoa mine and Ozark Mahoning mines at Rosiclare, and Minerva Oil Co. mines at Cave-in-Rock.

Making the trip with Prof. Fred D. Wright of the department of mining and metallurgical engineering at Illinois were Robert F. Taylor, Cisne; William E. Cullum, Elizabethtown; John S. Garden, Kimbundy; William J. Karwowski, George H. Roman, and John J. Warner, all of Chicago.

Salvation Army Film Tonight on WSIL

A film, "Hands of Mercy," which shows the work of the Salvation Army, will be presented over WSIL-TV tonight from 7 to 7:30.

Following the 20-minute film there will be a question-answer period regarding the Army's work and the fund drive currently in progress in Harrisburg.

Asking the questions will be Dr. Robert Pulliam, chairman, and Don Medley, co-chairman, of the drive for funds, and answering them will be Charles D. Taylor, chairman of the Army's advisory board, and the two local officers, Lt. Marion Haldeman and Lt. Millie Wallace.

To date the drive, which started Monday, has brought in about $500. The goal is $5,000.

William Hobbs, 78, Of Junction Dies

Probers Predict Union Election Will Go to Court

Probers Predict Union Election Will Go to Court

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Senate Rackets Committee dug deeper today into the records of the Teamster convention that boosted James R. Hoffa to the union presidency. The committee predicted the convention's "scandalous" events will wind up in the courts.

The committee staff is studying documents it subpoenaed at the time the Miami Beach, Fla., convention was electing Hoffa president of the union—the nation's largest.

The records were delivered to the committee earlier this week. They had been retrieved for the committee after being tossed into a hotel waste chute.

Chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark.) said Thursday, on the basis of a preliminary examination of records of the convention credentials committee, they revealed a "shocking situation." Some records were missing, he said, and those furnished were "inadequate."

"Furthermore, we have found several instances where Mr. Dave Beck, the international president, instructed the credentials committee to disregard the Teamsters constitution."

"Without this dictatorial action on the part of Mr. Beck, Mr. Hoffa, the candidate of his choosing, could not have been elected president of the Teamsters," the chairman said.

Chicago Council Adopts Civil Rights Ordinance

CHICAGO (UP)—The Chicago City Council has adopted a controversial civil rights ordinance making it illegal for business places to practice discrimination and providing fines up to $200 for violations.

The council, in a unanimous vote Thursday, itemized a list of business places and other locations which allegedly make a practice of discriminating against customers on the basis of race, creed or color.

The council also passed a resolution urging hospital officials to refrain from discriminating against Negro physicians in staff appointments. The resolution said 63 predominantly white hospitals in the city have only seven Negro physicians on their staffs.

Set Bond of $75,000

SHAWNEETOWN, Ill. — Circuit Judge Roy Gulley set bond at $75,000 Thursday for Donald Ray Meers, under indictment for murder, and called for Meers' two brothers, to be arraigned on the same charge Oct. 28.

Meers entered a plea of innocence to the charge of slaying Vincent York at New Haven July 19. He was indicted along with his brothers, Hal, and Robert Meers. The latter two are free on bonds of $20,000 each.

The Soviets threw new heat into the race by claiming their second Sputnik may outdate U. S. satellites before they get off the ground starting in December. Russian weapons expert Lt. Gen. Anatoly A. —In Seattle, former Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson Thursday night deplored what he called the U. S. public's "almost panic approach" to the Soviet moon. He said there is nothing more to worry about than before the satellite.

—At the United Nations, U. S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge called for international action to check-rein space rockets before they "blow us to bits."

—In Belgrade, Yugoslavia, a top Russian scientist, Alexander Sherbin, said the satellite now revolving around the world carries complete telephoto equipment for transmission of photographs back to Russia. But he said he did not know if the equipment is working.

VFW to Play Murphysboro

The Harrisburg VFW baseball team will play the strong Murphysboro Red Wings Sunday at 2 p. m. on VFW Memorial field in the last scheduled game for the locals.

Don Stout will be on the hill for the VFW and will be seeking his 15th win of the season against 3 losses. Bill McNew will be doing the receiving in the absence of Dick Romonosky. Romonosky is on vacation and will be out of town. Big Bob Dallas will be on first, John Mills or Merle Dailey will be on second, Dick Odle will be on shortstop and Ron Ziegler will be on third. Harold Guley, Ray Sisky and D. Stover or Don Wallace will be in the outfield.

Murphysboro will probably have Murl Gieger, an AAA player belonging to the St. Louis Cards, or Big Bob Heins, another ex-pro on the mound. Ed Koenig will catch.

This is the rubber game of a three game series and will probably be a good one.

Milwaukee Wild With Joy Over Braves' Victory

MILWAUKEE (AP)—This new baseball capital of the world has gone wild with joy.

Nearly half a million wildly cheering fans roared "Welcome Home" Thursday night when manager Fred Haney, pitching hero Lew Burdette and the other Yankee killers brought back Milwaukee's first World Series championship.

It was the city's biggest celebration since V-J Day.

Police Chief Howard Johnson estimated "conservatively" that 400,000 fans whooped it up at the airport, along the Braves' motorcade route and downtown.

The celebration began with cheering, sirens, horn-blasting, bells, snake dances and confetti the minute the Braves beat the New York Yankees 5-0 to clinch the Series.

Plane Brings Players

It swelled to a tremendous climax when the Braves' plane landed from New York. About 100,000 to 200,000 fans downtown blew horns, screamed, chanted, danced, shot off fireworks, drank beer in the streets and threw bushels of paper and confetti.

Crowds were so great that more than 50 motorcycle escorts couldn't get the motorcade through for a planned parade on Wisconsin Ave. and had to take a short-cut to County Stadium for the players to get their belongings.

When the Braves plane landed at Mitchell Field about 7:30 p. m. c.s.t. the roar of 12,000 persons on the observation deck was almost deafening.

Haney and his wife were first off the plane, followed by Burdette who won three games in the Series.

Haney waved his hat and Mayor Frank Zeidler rushed up and shook his hand.

The welcoming committee couldn't find a microphone in the confusion for Haney to thank the crowd. He and the player shoved through the crowd to waiting convertibles for the trip downtown.

Haney Rides Convertible

As the motorcade began moving, crowds lined both sides of the street. Haney sat atop the back seat of a convertible. Fans tried to get close enough to shake hands but police pushed them back.

Aaron Top Series Hitter

NEW YORK (AP)—Hank Aaron of the Milwaukee Braves, the National League's home run and runs batted in leader during the 1957 season, was the World Series' leading hitter in the three most important batting departments. The sleek outfielder hit the most home runs, three, batted in the most runs, 11, and had a .393 batting mark. He also handled 11 chances flawlessly in the field for a perfect 1.000 fielding average.

BEGINNING OF THE END—Milwaukee's Bob Hazle crosses homeplate with the first Brave run in the third inning of the seventh game of the World Series in Yankee Stadium. Hank Aaron (44), Yogi Berra and Umpire Bill McKinley look on. This was the beginning of the end for the Yanks as the Braves added four more runs to win the game and the championship, 5-0, as Lew Burdette chalked up his third win of this series. ## Only Seven New Series Records

NEW YORK (AP)—Only seven records were set during the seven-game 1957 World Series, probably because most of the games were well-pitched, low-scoring contests. Fourteen Series records were tied.

Yogi Berra, New York Yankee catcher, accounted for three records. He set a record for most games played in World Series competition, 54, and for most series participated in by a catcher, nine. He also set a record for most series games as a catcher, 52.

Johnny Logan of the victorious Braves set a record for most assists by a shortstop in a series game when he collected 10 in the fourth game.

The 1957 Series also drew an all-time record attendance of 394,712.

Expect Player Changes by Yankee Loss

NEW YORK (AP)—General Manager George Weiss was expected today to "swing the axe with a vengeance" in an effort to revamp the New York Yankees during the winter months.

The Yankees' World Series loss to the Milwaukee Braves was seen as sure to result in a basic front office concept: The team failed and Casey Stengel must share in the blame.

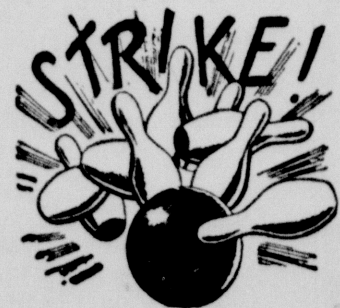

Insiders pointed out that Stengel's reputation as an all-victorious $100,000-a-year manager as definitely been hurt by the fact that the Yankees have won only one world championship in the last four years. Any other front office might consider this a fine record but the Yankees regard the world title as their personal right.

Waiting in the wings as prospective Yankee managers are Ralph Houk at Denver and Ed Lopat at Richmond. No one seriously believes engel is in danger of being replaced next year but another failure to win the world championship could result in placing Casey on the spot.

Weiss, who deals off "dead wood" even when he wins, undoubtedly will deal off players he regards as expendable.

These include Joe Collins, Gerry Coleman, Andy Carey, Harry Simpson, Enos Slaughter, plus pitchers Don Larsen, Tommy Byrne, Art Ditmar and perhaps Johnny Kucks.

There was no doubt today that 6 of 10 players who went down to Thursday's defeat won't be drawing those Yankee dollars in 1958.

Moving West

Braves' Victory Good, Leaders Say; Era Ends for New York

NEW YORK (AP)—New York City mourned the blackest year in its sports history today while the rest of the nation hailed it as a year in which the National League went West and took the Yankees' scalps with it.

"A great thing for baseball," said Commissioner Ford Frick after the Milwaukee Braves' dream came true with Thursday's 5-0 Series clincher and National League President Warren Giles echoed the thought with his comment, "A tremendous thing for the league and baseball as a whole."

But to New York, the Yankees' defeat was the final blow — the third strike — in a year when the Giants elected to go to San Francisco and the Dodgers quit Brooklyn for Los Angeles. The "Big City" was confident the Yankees could preserve a measure of its pride but even that was stripped away Thursday in the face of Lew Burdette's amazing mastery over the club that dealt him off as an expendable farmhand in 1951.

End of an Era? The Braves' World Series victory means that baseball's story has gone West. The two franchise shifts started the trend and the Yankees' defeat was the clincher as the eastern monopoly on World Series triumphs finally was broken.

Burdette, of course, emerged as one of the greatest heroes in World Series history. No pitcher since Stan Coveleski in 1920 had started and won three games in the same Series and the 30-year-old Burdette's 2-run-inning, capped by 24 1-2 consecutive scoreless frames, rivaled anything in Series competition since Christy Mathewson pitched three shutouts against the Philadelphia Athletics in 1905.

The players who never are supposed to tighten up committed three official errors and three others of omission in the decisive seventh game.

Mathews Kayos Larsen Eddie Mathews won the fourth game with his 2-run, 10th-inning homer and it was Mathews who struck the 2-run double Thursday that put the Braves on the glory road to stay. It kayoed Don (Perfect Game) Larsen and gave manager Fred Haney the lead.

Mathews' double caused Yankee manager Casey Stengel to remove Larsen and hits by Hank Aaron and Wes Covington plus an infield out enabled the Braves to lead by 4-0 in the third inning. Burdette protected it the rest of the way with Del Crandall's eighth-inning homer simply putting Stengel deeper into a strategic hole than he already was.

It was an irony of the Yankee defeat that Casey's second-guess of himself contributed to the key play that opened the way for the Braves' winning rally. Originally, Stengel had decided to play this decisive game with defense paramount. The first line-up he posted in the Yankee dug out had Andy Carey, No. 1 defensively on his club, playing third and Joe Collins, his best defensive player at first, playing that position. Tony Kubek was the center fielder in place of ailing Mickey Mantle.

When Mantle told Casey he could play, the old man shifted to offense and sent Tony Kubek to third.

Whether Carey would have played Johnny Logan's grounder perfectly into a double play will never

Report Decline In Employment

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government reported today that total employment dropped 700,000 from August to September in a customary seasonal decline.

It placed the number of persons employed during September at 65,700,000.

Unemployment remained unchanged at 2,600,000 persons, since most of those off the labor force were students returning to school.

The farm work force, which usually expands for the fall harvest slumped by 300,000 to 6,500,000 as bad weather curtailed outdoor work. Non-farm employment declined 400,000 to 59,200,000 including a drop of 51,000 to 16,900 in factory employment.

A joint Labor Department and Commerce Department statement said factory employment dipped slightly instead of showing its usual September rise, partly because of lay-offs in auto plants re-tooling for 1958 models.

The association also voted to hold its 1958 meeting in Chicago, and return to Champaign for its 1959 session.

THE STORY: Despite warnings, Sarah Casement continues to probe into the death of Grant Melville, who may have been murdered. She goes to Cape Cod, where Melville painted the previous summer, and there she meets Tom Gillespie, the nice young man who is helping Melville's widow do a biography on the dead painter.

Steven had come to take Sarah over for dinner and he asked Gillespie to join them later.

The house seemed curiously still when they were gone. The thought of the endless empty rooms was dismaying. Sarah jumped and dropped her lipstick when the kitchen door opened. It was Tom Gillespie. He had forgotten his shotgun.

What Tom Gillespie had really come back for was to warn her. At the high lattice gate, with his hand on the latch, he said quietly, "You came up here to find out all you could about Grant Melville. The only way you can find out is by asking questions. My advice is—don't. If there was something phony about Melville's death—if the fellow who bumped him off could be here."

She said all right, looking up at him. He was looking down at her. And the moment was there between them, a moment that had nothing to do with the late Grant Melville. Last night when he bent and kissed her he had been aloof, grave, almost detached. He was not now. Neither was she. Nothing like this had ever happened to her before.

The vividness and intensity of the moment, their awareness of each other, so sharp as to touch the edge of pain, was broken in on abruptly. Someone was coming along the road humming a tune.

It was Florrie Brown, a friend of Carlotta's who lived up the road and whose husband worked under Steven at the Coe and Bradford plant in South Cornwall.

"Sarah Casement!" she exclaimed vivaciously, tossing her long blonde bob over her shoulders and smiling her wide, flashing smile. "I heard you were here. It's all around town—you know this town. You can't turn over in bed without everybody knowing it." She laughed her contempt and dislike for Cornwall aloud.

Florrie would have been a very pretty girl except for a slight cast in one eye. She wasn't more than 19 and she was noisy and brash. She and her husband were a couple of crazy kids who enlivened the neighborhood by their constant quarrels.

"I know all about you too, Mr. Gillespie. You're writing a life of Grantie, aren't you? Ha—if people only knew—the old footsie player! Butler wouldn't melt in his mouth when the cow of a wife of his was around, o, no—but I could tell you plenty about him. Going to Carlotta's tonight?"

They both said they were and then Florrie and Tom went on together and Sarah closed the gate and started up the driveway. She crossed the flood-lit grass above, noting abstractedly that the roses badly needed pruning; they were a wilderness almost obscuring the four front windows and the front door. The vines were in disorder. Sarah moved closer, stood still, and stared down.

Tom Gillespie had driven the afternoon out of her head; it came back with a rush. Someone or something had come through the vines from inside the house, half a dozen long thorny streamers trailed outward on the grass, and there were crushed leaves and breaks in the stems where the vines had been torn roughly aside. Carlotta had said that some man or other had come over to borrow Grace's punch bowl 10 days ago and had probably forgotten to close the door firmly behind him. These breaks looked fresh.

When she went in she turned on all the lights, made sure that the bolts leading to the little entrance hall and the stairs were in place, and dressed in a hurry. She buckled her belt as she went through the little pine grove, snapped on her earrings as she moved along the Tasks' porch.

She had intended to tell Steven and Carlotta about the broken vines and her conviction that there had been someone in the stone house that afternoon, but they weren't alone. Two other couples were dining with them, Mr. and Mrs. Satterlee were already there.

The woman who had been Grant Melville's first wife was somnolent, ly handsome and haggard in jeans and a red pullover. She was helping Carlotta set the table. She gave Sarah a casual greeting, recalled meeting her in the summer.

Felix Satterlee was more ceremonious. He was a tall, fresh faced man in his early sixties with iron-gray hair and a pleasant manner. He left the salad dressing he was concocting to come and shake hands with her and ask about Grace.

Steven was stirring something in a big pot on the stove. It was his paella. He made her taste it, watching her anxiously.

During dinner at the lace-covered ed, candlelit table the talk ranged idly. There had been another spy scare at the Coast Guard station. A perfectly innocent man had been arrested.

"The officials out there are fools," Satterlee said disgustedly, "they're uniform-happy. The other side knows all about what goes on, all there is to know, but if the people here ask a simple question, they're slapped behind bars. Most of this security stuff is as ridiculous as it is naive."

Brown Returns From Limerick Fall Conference

Bill H. Brown, manager of the Limerick Finance office at 22 West Poplar street, Harrisburg, has returned from the company's fall management conference held Tuesday in Evansville, Ind.

Mr. Brown and other managers met with company officials in a day-long conference to acquaint them with the company's plans for the coming fiscal year and review the progress made during the year completed.

According to Mr. Brown, the 107-branch small loan and financing firm established 15 new branches during the 1956-57 fiscal year. Branch offices are located in seven states, including 23 branches in Illinois.

"The growth of Limerick Finance during the past year is a reflection of the rise in the stand-

Footsteps ought to take us from the place where we have been to a place where we desire to go. Actually many of the steps we take in life do not move us toward our objectives. Some of our steps are backward. We retrogress to points of retreat because of our ard of living of the American consumer. Without consumer credit as we know it today the average American would not be able to buy many of the products and services produced by America's industries," continued Mr. Brown.

The conference in Evansville was concluded in mid-afternoon with an address by Board Chairman Richard E. Meier.

tendency to return to old habits or other paths than the right ones.

Sometimes our movement takes us aside on byways or detours from the way that leads forward. Many of these side steps are in answer to the call of temptation instead of being caused by barriers in our paths. The tempting ways appear to be interesting or to offer momentary pleasure. When these routes are traveled to their dead ends we find ourselves at the point of no progress. We must retrace our steps with great difficulty before we can progress in a forward direction.

The way of God is clear for those who establish their goals under His guidance. They way is narrow and well marked toward Eternal Life. "The way to self-destruction is broad, but lacking in ultimate self-satisfaction. Why not save our energy and go forward constantly?"
